World Human Rights Cities Forum 2014

“Towards a Global Alliance of Human Rights Cities for All”

Concept Note

15-18 May 2014
Kimdaejung Convention Center
Gwangju, Republic of Korea

Background and Outline of the Forum

1. WHRCF 2014 is the fourth of the World Human Right Cities Forum, which has been annually held by key actors and stakeholders engaged in building a human rights city in order to implement the vision of a human rights city as articulated in the Gwangju Declaration on Human Rights City adopted on 17 May 2011 at the first WHRCF.

2. The Forum aims to address the emerging challenges facing human rights cities and local governments on the ground such as poverty and rising inequality, unemployment and lack of productive and decent jobs, exclusion of migrants and minorities and vulnerable groups, gender injustice and discrimination, environmental pollution and climate chaos, privatization of land and public space, access to public information and transparency to name a few. To that end, several sessions will be organised to foster participatory sharing and analysis of various experiences and good practices.

3. The Forum is hosted by the Metropolitan City of Gwangju and organized by Gwangju International Center, Korea Human Rights Foundation (KHRF) and United Cities and Local Governments (UCLG) with the support of co-sponsors including Ministry of Foreign Affairs, Ministry of Justice, National Human Rights Commission of Korea, Ministry of Education, the Asia Pacific Center for Education for International Understanding (APCEIU), Korean National Commission for UNESCO, and the Gwangju Metropolitan Office of Education.

4. More than 500 participants both from Korea and abroad, mainly representatives from ‘human rights cities’, including members of the Committee on Social Inclusion, Participatory Democracy and Human Rights of UCLG, human rights NGOs, grassroots community-based organizations, local parliamentarians, academics as well as UN human rights experts are expected to take part in the meeting.

Theme and Concept of ‘Human Rights City’ and the Right to the City

5. The theme “Towards a Global Alliance of Human Rights Cities for All” was chosen to highlight the importance of expanding the human rights cities’ movement worldwide in order to promote solidarity and mutual cooperation among them. It is believed that human rights mainstreaming through the human rights-based approach if rightly and fully implemented at all stages of a human rights city including budgeting, planning, implementation, monitoring and evaluation, can and must be a key to successful innovation to make a city a common space for solidarity for all beyond local and national boundaries.

6. The theme is in line with the concept of ‘Human Rights City’ as defined in WHRCF 2011 which is ‘both a local community and a socio-political process in the local context where human rights play a key role as the fundamental values and guiding principles’ based on the understanding of a “human rights city as human rights governance in the local context where local governments, local parliaments, civil society, private sector organizations and other stakeholders work together to improve the quality of life for all inhabitants in the spirit of partnership based on human rights standards and norms.”

7. The theme is also in line with the concept of the “right to the city” as defined in the 2012 1st World Summit of Local Governments for the Right to the City (Saint-Denis, France) as “the equitable usufruct of cities within the principles of sustainability, equality, solidarity and social justice”, a concept that should become a tangible reality not only in cities, but also in metropolitan regions, in close dialogue with social movements and civil society in general at local, national and global level.

8. From the European Charter of Human Rights in the City (2000) signed by more than 350 European towns and cities, to those of Montreal (2006), Mexico (2010), Gwangju (2012) and Vienna (2012) and through the adoption of the Global Charter-Agenda of Human Rights in the City (2011), adopted by UCLG, we are pleased to observe that for over 12 years, human rights have been increasingly inscribed in the agendas of local authorities from all over the globe.

9. However, further progress is still needed to make human rights a reality in our cities. According to the Gwangju Declaration on Human Rights City of 2011, human rights mainstreaming emphasizes the human rights-based approach where all inhabitants, regardless of race, sex, colour, nationality, ethnic background, social status in particular, minorities and any other vulnerable groups who socially tend to be marginalized, can participate fully in the decision-making, policy-implementation and monitoring processes that affect their lives in accordance with human rights principles such as non-discrimination, rule of law, participation, empowerment, transparency and accountability.
